FEMA REGION 6 SPOT REPORT #3: Explosion with HAZMAT Release – TX
CIR: Any event in the Region receiving wide media coverage (local or national) likely resulting in a DHS or White House request for information.

Incident Description: An initial report of an explosion at an oil refinery in Jefferson County, TX was received. A subsequent chemical release resulted in a shelter-in-place order.

Time of Incident: 0100 CT 27 Nov 2019
1730 CT 27 Nov 2019

Sources:

- TX SOC
- NOAA (WFO Lake Charles, LA)
- Open Source
- DOE Eagle-I
- FEMA-NWC

Current Situation:

- An explosion at the TPC Group Refinery – City of Port Neches (Jefferson County, TX) precipitated a release of Butadiene, which prompted a shelter-in-place order by the Orange County judge (with suggested evacuation) for up to a mile radius around the incident until 0600 CT. Jefferson County has also issued a shelter-in-place order for the City of Groves and a portion of Port Arthur due to a shift in winds and plume modeling. A mandatory evacuation order is in effect for those residing within a ½ mile of the facility.
- IMAAC DEACTIVATION: Standing Down for refinery explosion in Port Neches, TX

Key points since last update:

- Clarification of chemicals involved; Raffinate and Butadiene, other chemicals at the facility include C4 (not the explosives) and crude oil
- Explosion originated in a processing unit, cause unknown
- Three tanks have collapsed
- Texas State Environmental Monitors have not recorded any elevated levels of chemicals
- Fire is going to be allowed to burn out while being monitored (to prevent further vapor cloud ignition)
- Mandatory evacuations for the ½ mile radius remain, additional evacuations have been ordered for parts of Jefferson and Orange counties
- Eight minor injuries reported
- Neches River and Sabine-Neches Waterway are closed near the fire (no appreciable short-term impact to shipping)
- Highway 366 closed in the immediate area
